INVESTMENT UNIVERSE AND PHILOSOPHY

The fund MONACTION ASIE invests in Asian equities with an emphasis on Japanese stocks and is hedged against FX risks.

The management is discretionary and conviction based with a GARP selection process, i.e. privileging earnings growth, strength of the balance sheet and long term gain potential.

RISK PROFILE

Lower risk/potential reward

Higher risk/potential reward

The risk indicator, based on past volatility, cannot cover all types of risks to which the fund may be exposed. It is possible that the past data used does not constitute a reliable indication of the future risk profile. The category associated with this fund is not a guarantee and can evolve with time. The lowest category is not synonymous with a "riskless" investment.

PERFORMANCE

Past performance is not a guarantee of future performance, nor is it constant with time and does not constitute in any case a guarantee of future performance.

QUARTERLY MANAGEMENT COMMENT

Asian markets were in mixed order over the first quarter. The Shanghai Shenzhen CSI 300 index gained 3.1%, while the Nikkei 225 gained 21.4%.

In January, companies with potential to grow earnings strongly over the next 12 months, such as Kinden, Daiseiki and Keyence have been increased. In February positions have been built in companies with improving fundamental, such as Yokohama Rubber, Kinden and Dai Nippon Printing instead of chasing the outperformance of large-cap companies. In March, these positions have been increased: positions benefitting from normalization of the Japanese economy, such as Sumitomo Mitsui Trust Holding, a trust bank as well as Daiwabo, the largest PC wholesale company in the country.

Looking forward, we are constructive on Asian equities and expect recovery in markets that has done poorly last year and also the proliferation of structural growth opportunities. Growth rates should look to gravitate towards their long-term trends, with Asian economies expected to outpace developed markets.
